

Analyst, Development (Pre-MBA)
Recurrent Energy
San Francisco, CA

Reporting to the Director of Development, the Analyst will support development efforts with economic analysis, document management, and research on transactions across a pipeline of projects targeting wholesale power markets in the western US. The successful candidate will have knowledge and 1 -2 years experience in a transactional industry, strong financial analysis skills and an ability to summarize and communicate complex ideas succinctly.

Duties and Responsibilities

- Complete financial modeling, economic analysis, RPS compliance tracking, and competitive analysis
- Develop proposals, project level content, and provide transactional document support
- Create supporting maps, exhibits, and discrete analysis to aid land acquisition, permitting, and power marketing activities
- Coordinate document management across power marketing, interconnection, permitting, and entitlement processes
- Support Associates and Directors in the process of structuring, negotiating and closing project transactions including asset acquisitions, Power Purchase Agreements (PPAs), site leases and permits
- Conduct due diligence on projects, sites, and clients for development or acquisition projects
- Perform primary and secondary research on regulations, power economics, input prices and other data by market

Experience and Qualifications

- Demonstrated interest in a career in energy, asset development, or real estate
- Desire to work in a transaction-based environment where requirements and tight deadlines are often dictated by deal flow
- Highly resourceful and comfortable working in an unstructured, entrepreneurial environment
- Highly proficient in MS Excel (advanced proficiency required), Project, Word, and PowerPoint, as well as Google Earth
- Evidence of solid research and writing skills
- Strong quantitative aptitude with an extremely high level of attention to detail and a strong sense of personal responsibility and ownership of work product
- Excellent personal organizational skills
- Ability to summarize complex issues and opportunities into succinct and actionable deliverables
- Solid understanding of economic and business concepts
- Highly driven and hard working with high standards for themselves and others
- Undergraduate degree from a top tier university required
- 1-2 years work experience, preferably within a transactional industry

- Ability and willingness to travel as required

Contact

Qualified candidates should submit an email cover letter with attached resume to: jobs@recurrentenergy.com. No calls, no recruiters please.

About Recurrent Energy

Recurrent Energy is an independent power producer and a leading developer of distributed solar projects for utilities, government, and commercial customers. Located in San Francisco, Recurrent Energy is helping to meet rising energy demand by developing a global portfolio of clean power plants located where they are needed most. The company has a pipeline of 2 GW of distributed-scale solar projects in development across North America and Europe. For more information on Recurrent Energy and distributed solar power, please visit www.recurrentenergy.com.